SSAB Flute, cello, organ/piano

Other parts and lower key available from MMF

Composer: Christian Gregor

edited by Nola Reed Knouse

Text: after Exodus 31:17, 16:23, translated by C. Daniel Crews
and Nola Reed Knouse

An extensive reworking and new translation of an old favorite, this short anthem features an exceptionally lovely duet for flute and cello -- so lovely that the instruments sometimes "sing" while the choir functions as accompaniment. The beautiful SSAB voicing and meditative quality make this a particularly good choice for smaller ensembles, but this piece belongs in the repertoire of every Moravian choir. The anthem is deceptively simple -- simple, because it has clean harmonies, straightforward rhythms and compact phrases; and deceptive, because some high entrances and an expressive style need voices with good control and flexibility. The text and tone are appropriate for Holy Week, especially Good Friday and Great Sabbath -- with its description of Jesus' rest in the tomb. The text sings well in English and German, as the tempo is moderate and the diction in both languages is (mostly!) simple. Given the anthem's brevity, congregations might enjoy hearing both.

The award citation which was presented to Van, by MMF Board members Mike Cude and Chris Jones, reads as follows:

THE MORAVIAN MUSIC FOUNDATION

G. Van Krause

You have been directing the Advent-Hopewell Moravian Band for over thirty years.

During those years, members of the band have grown in musical and spiritual maturity. Upon leaving rehearsal, band members have been known to say to one another, "Well, we've been to church now." The goal of the band is to provide a ministry to the community by presenting music in service to the Lord Jesus Christ, spreading God's word and inviting people to share in the life of the church. You have served as part minister and part missionary, as musician, conductor, encourager, and teacher. As a director, you lead with humor and patience, with inspiration and with love.

Through your gifts of grace and music, you have created an inclusive community of musicians of all ages and levels of ability. The members of the Advent-Hopewell Moravian Band come together as individuals in a band, but leave as members of a family. Although many have played in the band for many years, new members are encouraged and immediately made to feel at home; and this welcoming attitude begins with you, the leader of the band. Truly your leadership is a witness to the love of Christ, and reaches far beyond Tuesday night rehearsals to embrace all who hear the Advent-Hopewell Moravian Band.

For your dedicated service; your sharing of the joy of music in and beyond worship; and your contribution to the preservation, celebration, and cultivation of the musical life of the Moravians; the Board of Trustees of the Moravian Music Foundation takes great delight in presenting to you the

An Invitation...

Here we forward an invitation from our European brothers and sisters to attend next year's Bläserntag, scheduled to take place June 10 - 14, 2011, in Niesky, Germany. As many of you know, the European Province of the Moravian Church hosts an annual musical event for its congregations, alternating every other year between brass (Bläserntag) and choral (Chortag) events. This Pentecost weekend is not only musically fulfilling, but provides for wonderful fellowship between Moravian congregations in Europe - the same kind of fellowship we experience at our own Moravian Music Festivals.

The planners of next year's Bläserntag are extending this invitation, not only to their European brothers and sisters, but to the Moravian Church worldwide to join in this special weekend. While, unfortunately, they cannot fly us overseas, they are making a generous offer to help with the registration fee.

Anyone who is interested in attending next year's Bläserntag should contact Pastors Jill and Peter Vogt directly, either via email (peter.vogt@bruederbemeine-niesky.de) or by phone (011-49-3588-202995). More information about the festival can be found at <http://www.blaesertag2011.de/>. For an English translation of the Bläserntag web site, see <http://bit.ly/gYsrLD>.

Brother Bechler's biography now available

We announce with pride the publication of a new booklet - the biography of Johann Christian Bechler (1784-1857). Best known among American Moravians as the composer of the tune for Sing Hallelujah, Praise the Lord, Brother Bechler served faithfully as pastor, teacher, and musician, in many locations in the worldwide Moravian Unity. His life story is a fascinating one, written by the Rev. Dr. C. Daniel Crews - known for his ability to write even the most commonplace events in a style guaranteed to be enjoyable to the reader!

Also included in this booklet is a list of Brother Bechler's known works. The booklet is available from the Foundation for $4.00 plus applicable tax and shipping.

*(Got those Moravian Music Festival dates memorized yet?
July 14-20, 2013, in Bethlehem!)*

Lamb of God, Thou Shalt Remain Forever (Jesu, Du, O Herze ohne Gleichen)SATB Organ/piano; parts for two flutes, clarinet, two bassoons, strings available from MMF*Composer: Johann Friedrich Peter; text: Christian Renatus von Zinzendorf*Edited by Ryan Malone

This is an elegant, ornate anthem in the traditional Moravian style, suited to Lent and Holy Week. I know from experience that it works well with both a large Festival choir and a church choir of fewer than twenty singers. With relatively wide vocal ranges, some ornamentation and a few counting challenges, this piece benefits from ample rehearsal time and musicians familiar with the style. The text, familiar today as verse three of My Redeemer Overwhelmed With Anguish (Moravian Book of Worship #346), is very much the anthem's focus, with most of the verse sung twice. The final lines, however, are sung only at the end in a grand version of the chorale Covenant. This edition includes English and German. For regular services, the anthem is long enough once through. Choirs good at singing in German and seeking longer pieces for special occasions should consider sharing the beautiful text in both languages.

Reviewed by Chancy M. Kapp, Raleigh Moravian Church, Raleigh, North CarolinaWounded Lamb! By Your Self-Offering (Sey gegrüsset, Lamm voll Wunden)*SATB Organ/piano; parts for strings available from MMF*Composer: Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart; text: anonymous Moravian*Edited by Nola Reed Knouse

The music of Mozart was present in several of the American Moravian communities. Examples of his works included selections from various mass settings and several smaller sacred works, including the well-known Ave Verum Corpus (K. 618). The work was composed in Baden near Vienna on June 17, 1791, the last year of Mozart's life. The work was composed for school teacher and choirmaster Anton Stoll, and has become associated with the feast of Corpus Christi, although with its original Latin text it can be used as a Eucharist hymn.

Just how and when Mozart's music came into use by the Moravians remains a mystery, but it is known that the Leipzig publisher Breitkopf and Härtel gave up on the notion of producing an edition of the collected works of Mozart due to a lack of subscribers. Christian Ignatius Latrobe bought a large number of scores from Breitkopf and Härtel at budget bin prices while visiting Germany on church business.

The anonymous Moravian text actually precedes the music of Mozart. It appeared in the 1778 German Moravian hymnal. The text makes this anthem useable for Good Friday, Great Sabbath, or as a communion anthem.

so that your singers need not be reaching for those really high notes!*

Welcome, New Board Members!

The Moravian Music Foundation welcomes the following board members just embarking on their terms of service ...

- * Hal Garrison, of Winston-Salem, NC, appointed by the Salem Congregation, retired from Hanesbrands in information technology. He is active as a singer, organist, and volunteer, and has special interests in genealogy, local and global history, amateur radio, current and historical technology, and religion and theology.
- * Rickey Johnson, of Winston-Salem, NC, elected as an at-large trustee, is a harpsichordist and choral singer and is studying at Salem College through the adult degree program.
- * Donna Ambler, of Bethlehem, PA, appointed by Bethlehem Area Moravians, is music director at Advent Moravian Church. She is an active choral singer in the Unitas Chorale, formerly with the Bach Choir, an avid reader, and enjoys sports.
- * Robbie Alphin, of Winston-Salem, NC, elected as an at-large trustee, is vice-president of Bob Alphin & Sons Pest Control. He is director of the Friedland Moravian Church Band, and enjoys the Moravian Lower Brass ensemble, the Saints and Sinners Music Group, the Friendly Avenue Baptist Church Orchestra, outdoor activities, and loves history.

Thank you for your willingness to serve! We look forward to your contributions to the Moravian Music Foundation's mission!
