

Moravian Music Foundation European Concert Tour

July saw the first-ever of its kind in Moravian Music Foundation history - a concert tour with some 70 participants, traveling, singing, meeting Moravian brothers and sisters everywhere, seeing sites we'd only read about, singing, singing, singing ... re-learning music we'd sung at the 2009 Festival (and some we hadn't!), getting to know some young musicians from Rollins College who accompanied us, enjoying great food and drink and fellowship ... See story and more pictures on pages 4-5 below!

Singing From the Heart

Did you ever wish for a "shorter Moravian hymnal"? (Or did you ever even think you might want one?) What about for travel? Women's Fellowship meetings? Retreats? Camps? A small gift to acquaint others with the best-loved Moravian hymns?

This is what Singing From the Heart: A Shorter Moravian Hymnal and Liturgies is! Newly released by the Interprovincial Board of Communications, this book was called for by the Southern Province Synod of 2006. The Moravian Music Foundation provided editorial services, under the oversight of the Commission on Music and Worship of the Southern Province.

The spiral-bound soft-cover book has about 100 hymns, the "core" liturgies from the Moravian Book of Worship (Baptism/confirmation, Memorial service, Easter Morning, the Shorter Church Litany, and the like), and a "baker's dozen" shorter liturgies or "Congregational Prayers for Moravian Worship".

Of course, like most ideas Moravian, it really isn't new - a very similar thing was done 100 years ago with the production of the Shorter Moravian Hymn Book, printed in 1902 (and reissued in 1920!). And even earlier - in 1579 the Unitas Fratrum published a smaller (and more affordable!) version of its big 1576 hymnal.

Singing from the Heart

A Shorter Moravian Hymnal
and Liturgies

In this 2010 version, all the hymns have guitar chords as well as the traditional four-part settings. Copies are available for $9.00 from the Interprovincial Board of Communications and the Moravian Music Foundation.

The following letter was received in the MMF office back in June ...and we thought our readers might like to know what one very active band is up to these days!

Hi all,

I thought I'd let you know about a couple of events the Raleigh Moravian Church Band was invited to participate in recently. We viewed both of these events as opportunities to extend our ministry of music out into the community.

On Sunday May 16th, the RMC Band joined the Raleigh Boychoir and the Highland United Methodist Church's handbell choir in a Raleigh concert at Highland UMC to benefit Habitat for Humanity. The Band presented a brief program of Moravian chorales and other music, and joined the Boychoir, Highland Handbells, and audience in a moving arrangement of Beethoven's Hymn to Joy.

Two days later, the Band gathered at Goodson Chapel at the Duke University Divinity School to provide service music for the North Carolina Council of Churches' 75th Anniversary worship service. The Band played a prelude of chorales, provided an offertory anthem, and accompanied the congregation in several hymns.

Best wishes to everyone from Raleigh!

Barb Prillaman

*... and thank you, Barb, for keeping us informed!
Happy playing!*

Moravian Star Anthem Series grows and grows...

We've added two anthems to the series this summer, and another is on the way (at ATCO printers now!)

Sing, O Ye Heavens, by J. F. Peter, is of course no stranger to many Moravians! It was first published in 1954, edited by Clarence Dickinson. It's long been out of print and available only through the Lending Library. This new edition was prepared by John Sinclair. Of course, this anthem is infamous for the high soprano part, but remember – each Moravian Star Anthem comes with an organ part transposed to a lower key, which makes life much easier for both sopranos and tenors! Funding for the publication was provided in loving memory of Agnes Stewart Jackson and Emma Marilyn Sinclair.

Blessed Are They Who Jesus' Suffering, also by J. F. Peter, was also published in 1954 and is out of print. This new edition was prepared by Ryan Malone (former organist at Raleigh Moravian), while he was working on his doctorate at Duke. Funding for the publication was provided by the Choir of Central Moravian Church, Bethlehem, PA, to honor Deborah Leyshon-Brandt in celebration of her 30 years of faithful service as the choir's mezzo-soprano soloist. Deborah's extraordinary talent and musicality, her leadership, her creativity, and her nurturing spirit have inspired the choir to exalt our Heavenly Father with songs of joy and thanksgiving.

And coming this fall? Hail, Infant Newborn, by David Moritz Michael, in Karl Kroeger's wonderful edition. Again long out of print, the rights to the edition were ceded to MMF by Brodt Music Company in 2007. Funding has been provided in loving memory of Marie Hildebrandt, who was a lifelong member of the Lake Mills Moravian Church in Wisconsin and a long-time member of the Senior Choir. For many years she helped care for the choir robes and before her death she willed half of her estate to support the music ministry of the church.

For assistance in sponsoring a publication contact either MMF office – Nola or Gwyn would be thrilled to help you!

Moravian Mail (or how a Moravian Star Anthem arrives in Winston-Salem and Bethlehem!)

Moravian Star Anthems are printed by two wonderful companies, both in Ohio – the Anthony Thomas Candy Company of Columbus, and Schlabach Printers in Sugarcreek. We're delighted with both of them – and grateful for terrific working relationships and what we think is a great product!

But, you say in wonderment, the Moravian Music Foundation doesn't have an office in Ohio. How much of the cost of our anthems is being shelled out to shipping companies?

Answer? Zero. Zilch. Nada. Nichts. And the reason?

It's "Moravian mail", of course!

Put any three Moravians in a room together, and it'll take them less than five minutes to find out several things: (1) how they're related; or (2) if they're not related themselves, how their spouses, ministers, children's kindergarten teachers, old college roommate's third cousin once removed, or the like, are related; (3) what pastors they've all known and loved; and (4) what their congregations serve for lovefeast. Put yourself as a Moravian in a strange place, and if you find a Moravian household, they'll generally not only give you a bed and breakfast, but often the house key and their daughter's car key.

This creates what we affectionately call "Moravian mail" – an informal and highly effective means of transporting letters, documents, books, boxes – and newly printed anthems – from one place to another. All it takes is for one Moravian to decide they'll make it happen.

Our Moravian mail network is capably organized by Randy Gibbs (New Philadelphia) and David Blum (Columbus). They've used people like Dave and Linda Wickmann; Ted and Margaret Leinbach; Barbara Strauss; John Wallace; John and Barbara Giesler; and countless others as couriers for us, saving us many rubles (Euros, pennies, Czech crowns...).

My favorite story? Randy knew that Barbara Strauss (Cleveland) was coming to Winston-Salem last spring, and delivered to her a box of anthems. It turned out that she needed to fly rather than drive; and it was going to cost more to check this box of anthems than it would to ship them, so she hung onto them at home. When Ted Leinbach was going to be driving up to Ohio later on to visit Margaret (then serving an interim pastorate at Sharon), he agreed to drive the box back here – if we could get it back to the Tuscarawas Valley. So this gave Randy and Nancy the perfect excuse to meet Barbara somewhere between Cleveland and New Philadelphia, have dinner together, and transfer the box back to Randy, who got it to Ted, who brought it to Winston-Salem! (And Randy, Nancy, and Barbara had some wonderful fellowship in the experience.)

So, Moravian mail beats the U.S. Postal Service, UPS, FedEx, DHL, and all those others – yes, they deliver, but do they make us smile?

Every participant has stories ... and there's not at all room to tell even a fraction of them! So we're including a sampling of the photos taken, and trust you'll have the chance to speak with tour participants. Check out the MMF Facebook page for more photos!

A sample page from Singing from the Heart: A Shorter Moravian Hymnal with Liturgies. This new publication sells for $9.00 a copy and is available from the Moravian Music Foundation or the Interprovincial Board of Communications (www.moravian.org/publications; P.O. Box 1245, Bethlehem, PA 18016-1245; phone 610-867-0593).

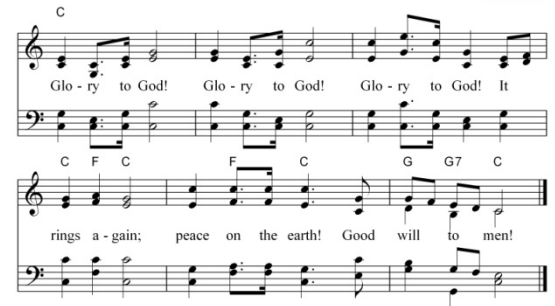

It's spiral bound (makes it lie flat on a music stand or rack!) and small enough to carry with you when you travel.

... and ... it makes a great gift for someone asking, "So what is this all this about Moravians singing?"

See page 1 for the story!
